In connection with the tender offer, the Bidder has entered into a tender agreement (the "Tender Agreement") with Nissan, the lead shareholder in CK, to acquire in the tender offer Nissan's approximate 41% holding of CK's common shares. The tender offer is planned to be commenced subject to the fulfillment of certain conditions in the Tender Agreement and the Bidder currently expects to commence the tender offer in February 2017 (for details regarding the conditions for the commencement of the tender offer, please refer to the full text of the press release issued by CK today titled "Announcement Concerning Opinion on Tender Offer by CK Holdings Co., Ltd." and its attachment titled "Announcement Regarding the Tender Offer for the Shares of Calsonic Kansei Corporation (Securities Code 7248)" (collectively, the "CK Press Release").

CK is a leading supplier of automotive components including vehicle interiors, climate control systems, compressors, exhaust systems and electronic products. Nissan is the primary customer for CK, which also supplies other automotive groups including Renault, Isuzu, Daimler and General Motors.

Under the terms of the announced offer under Japan's Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, among other terms, the Bidder will commence the tender offer to acquire the outstanding common stock of CK. In light of the proposal from the Bidder, CK plans to issue a special dividend (the "Special Dividend") conditioned upon the success of the tender offer with a record date of the calendar day prior to the tender offer commencement date. The Bidder plans to pay cash consideration of JPY 1,860 per common share to the existing shareholders of CK. However, in the event that the Special Dividend is declared prior to the tender offer commencement date, then the Bidder will calculate the offer price for the tender offer by deducting the per share value of the Special Dividend from this planned price of JPY 1,860 per common share. Please note that, although the dividend amount per share for the Special Dividend is expected to be approximately JPY 570 (provided that the maximum amount shall be JPY 570) as of today, the final dividend will be determined based on the procedures under the Companies Act (for details, please refer to the CK Press Release).

The proposed price represents:¹

- | A premium of 109.3% to CK's 12-month volume weighted average price ("VWAP") to October 27, 2016
- | A premium of 113.6% to CK's 6-month VWAP to October 27, 2016

Since the number of CK's outstanding issued shares is equal to 267,882,277 (excluding treasury shares), the consideration price values CK at approximately JPY498.3 billion based on the Proposed Price.

Mr. Yasuhiro Yamauchi, Chief Competitive Officer of Nissan, said: "This agreement was reached because we share common interests and goals. Nissan is hoping to further increase the competitiveness of Calsonic Kansei—one of our most important partners—and KKR recognizes the company's potential. This is also the best choice for Calsonic Kansei and its shareholders."

Mr. Hiro Hirano, Member of KKR and CEO of KKR Japan, added: "Calsonic Kansei is a best-in-class auto-parts manufacturer that supplies high-quality products to the world's largest automotive brands. As a partner to Calsonic Kansei's management team, we aim to assist the company in achieving its growth ambitions and make available our international network and industry expertise to continue Calsonic Kansei's success globally."

KKR makes its proposed investment from its Asian Fund II. KKR has been investing in Japan through its pan-regional private equity funds since 2010. Japan has been and continues to be a key focus for KKR in the region. To date, KKR has completed three acquisitions in the market: Intelligence Ltd., a leading human resources services company; Panasonic Healthcare, the carve-out health care business of Panasonic Corporation; and Pioneer DJ, the carve-out DJ equipment business of Pioneer Corporation.
